

I urge the FAA to adopt AOPA's petition and restore general aviation access to Washington's airspace. I have family and friends who live in the DC area and I fly from Michigan often to visit. It is very inconvenient to be forced to land outside the DCA restricted area and then travel an additional 45 minutes by car to my final destination.

I don't understand why GA is being forced to suffer when there has been no evidence that it causes any increased risk to national security.
